Nicene Creed
We believe in one God, the Father, the Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all that is seen and unseen.

We believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the only Son of God, eternally begotten of the Father, God from God, Light from Light, true God of true God, begotten, not made, one in Being with the Father. Through Him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation, He came down from heaven. By the power of the Holy Spirit, He was born of the Virgin Mary and became man.

For our sake He was crucified under Pontius Pilate, He suffered, died, and was buried. On the third day He rose again in fulfillment of the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and His kingdom will have no end.

We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son. With the Father and Son, He is worshiped and glorified. He has spoken through the prophets.

We believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. We acknowledge one baptism for the forgiveness of sins. We look for the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

PRAYER FOR COURAGE DURING STUDY WEEK
Lord Jesus, teach me to be generous; teach me to serve you as you deserve, to give and not to count the cost, to fight and not to heed the wounds, to toil and not to seek for rest, to labor and not to seek reward, except that of knowing that I do your will. Amen.

A Note from Fr. Marty

I thought you might enjoy this reflection by Father John Foley, S.J. on this Sunday's Readings:

KNOWING FROM THE HEART

Shepherds were extremely important to the well-being of a flock. They guided them, made them safe, lead them to food and drink. Remember when Jesus said that the people looked like “sheep without a shepherd?”

So why did Jesus make his cryptic remarks about his sheep this Sunday? I have been told that in Jerusalem during Jesus' day the various flocks of sheep would arrive with their respective shepherds, only to be turned into the same sheepfold together. This made for a rather large gang of sheep, and there wasn't any practice of branding or marking to tell which was which. Two ways. One, the shepherd knows all his sheep by heart. He has a special name for each. Second, the sheep themselves know their master's voice unmistakably. When he calls out, they simply get up and come to him. They follow him out with no mistake.

That is Jesus’ reference in Sunday’s short Gospel. “My sheep hear my voice; I know them, and they follow me.” We are the sheep. He says we “shall never perish,” because he holds us in his own hands. In fact, it was the Father who gave us to Jesus, and no one can ever take us out of the Father’s hands.

Have you ever longed for someone who could make things alright, who could lift the responsibility from your shoulders? Someone who knows you by name and loves you?

What about trying, this Sunday, to notice how your spirit automatically inclines to Jesus? How your soul seeks him and finds him?

Pro-lifers offer largely silent witness at March for Women's Lives

WASHINGTON (CNS) -- Vastly outnumbered by the hundreds of thousands taking part in the April 25 March for Women's Lives in Washington, pro-life groups conducted a largely silent witness along the march route. Even the group Silent No More Awareness, which urges its members to speak publicly about their abortions, decided to stay quiet at its locations along the route of those marching to keep abortion legal. "Today we're being silent," said Georgette Forney, the group's co-founder. "It won't do any good to engage them. This is not the forum." About 90 people, including many members of American Collegians for Life, lined one sidewalk near the start of the march route bearing signs and wearing T-shirts with a pro-life message.

STILL A NATION UNDER GOD

So much lately has muddied the once certain God-fearing name of our land. And while all the voices lifted today many not call upon the God we worship, let us remember to praise Him for the freedom to worship as we choose. Let us call upon Him to turn the hearts of the country back to His ways and stir up the hearts of our leaders towards righteousness and love. For though today we live in a nation under siege, spiritual and material, we are still a nation under God.
